

WINE NOTES FOR FEBRUARY 2018

DELOR RESERVE BORDEAUX SAUVIGNON BLANC 2016

Bright light straw with a green tinge, Delor Reserve Blanc is wonderful as an aperitif and with deep-fried foods including dim sums, tempura and pakoras. Bristling with green guavas and young grapefruit, the aroma and palate are near identical. Zesty, zinging and lifted. Light and unoaked. A negociant or wine merchant based in Parempuyre (off the D2 road and before the commune of Margaux), Delor was founded in 1864 by Alphonse Delor. Their Reserve brand (which also includes Sauternes and a red – please see below) was launched in 1997. Ten years later in 2007, Delor joined the Thienot Bordeaux-Champagne Group owned by Alain Thienot.

DELOR RESERVE BORDEAUX RED 2014

A light, very engaging, and wonderfully balanced Bordeaux red showing delicate red/blue fruit and soft tannins, Delor Reserve Red is best enjoyed when served cool rather than in the warm 'room temperature' of Singapore. After purchase, the bottle should be kept in the vegetable or fruit compartment of the fridge until you decide to open it. It should be served straight from there and enjoyed on its own, and with chicken, duck, pork and beef dishes including steaks.
